It serves as a compass as well, showing you how to properly plan and get ready for each section. Finally, it provides you with confidence and facilitates your flow during the exam by acting as a navigational aid. Before being called for the interview round, candidates must pass an objective type preliminary exam and the final exam. The expected Exam Pattern is as follows:

5

Preliminary Examination

- You will encounter a single paper consisting of 100 multiple-choice questions.
- These questions are divided into two sections: general studies (150 marks) and arithmetic (50 marks).
- Each correct answer carries 2 marks. It's crucial to note that there will be a penalty for incorrect answers to multiple-choice questions (MCQ type).
- You will have 1 hour and 30 minutes to complete this examination. Importantly, the preliminary exam acts as a screening test to determine who progresses to the final examination.

Mains Exam

There will be three conventional-type question papers: Paper-I, Paper-II, and Paper-III, each worth 450 marks.

- Paper-I and Paper-II are each worth 150 marks and have a duration of 1 hour and 30 minutes.
- Paper-III is worth a total of 150 marks, with 100 marks for General Studies (Group A) and 50 marks for Arithmetic (Group B). The total time allotted for Paper III is 2 hours and 30 minutes.

You have the option to answer Group-A (General Studies) questions in English, Bengali, or Nepali. For Group B (Arithmetic), answers can be provided in English or Bengali. However, all your answers within the same group must be in the same language.

Personality Test

- The interview carries a weightage of 100 marks.
- Only a limited number of candidates, selected based on their performance in the final written examination, will be invited for the interview.
- The Final Merit List will be determined by combining the marks obtained in all three papers of the Final Examination with those from the interview.
